IN PROVENENTS AT LOCAL GAS PLANT

Capacity of the Institution Is to de Doubled Early in the Coming Year.

egden, Dec. 27.-Local officials of the Wtah Light & Railway company are authority for the statement that the present capacity of the gas plant here will be doubled within the near future Many extensions are to be made in the gas mains in all parts of the city during the spring and the large gas holder mg the spring and the large gas locate will be increased so as to hold 100,000 cubic feet instead of 20,000, as at pres-ent. Taking into consideration that there were between 300 and 400 modern cottages constructed in Ogden during cottages constructed in Ogden during the past year, the company hopes to secure gas patronage from a large majority of these homes as well as from those which have been erected during a number of years. The plant of the company located at Lincoln avenue and Twentieth street, will be increased to contain four gas-making "benches," there being but two retorts in operation now.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL AT CEMENT PLANT

Ogden, Dec. 26.—The workmen of the large cement plant at Devil's Slide were generously treated by their employes on Christmas. The American workmen were given a banquet and each of the foreign workmen was tendered a ton of coal. In the evening a dance was given for all.

ACTIVITY AROUND OGDEN POSTOFFICE

Ogden, Dec. 27.—In noting the mass of people that throng the spacious corridors of the Ogden postofice and seeing the clerks actively handing out packages and taking care of the mail, reminds one of the many tokens of good cheer which find their way to all parts of the country. The clerks work unitedly and with a will to serve the big crowds with as little delay as possible, and in recognition of past good one sack of mixed nuts and boxes of clgars from Fred J. Kiesel company, one crate of bananas from Cragun Bros., a case of oranges from the Ogden Commission company and a crate one crate of bananas from Cragun Bros, a case of oranges from the Ogden Commission company and a crate of one-pound packages of fancy mixed candy for each employe by Postmaster L. W. Shurtliff. The employes state that the merchants and business men are all princes, and recognize Uncle Sam's best efforts to please the public by giving the best service at his command.

Postmaster Shurtliff states that up to Dec. 21 the amount of business was not equal to last year, but the mail received for delivery, and especially packages up to Dec. 24, is the largest ever handled at the Ogden postoffice.

COAL REDUCED BY CONSUMERS' COMPANY

Ogden, Dec. 27,-Following a recent Ogden, Dec. 21.—Following a recent statement issued by several Ogden coal merchants to the effect that it would be impossible to reduce the price of coal in this city until the present storage sup this city until the present storage sup-ply had been sold, the Consumers' Coal company, an independent firm, has is-sued a bulletin reducing coal to the lowest figure quoted on the Ogden mar-ket for many years. All lump coal, including Castle Gate and Rock Springs si quoted at $4.50 at the yards and $4 at the yard. This sweeping cut is listed at $4.75 per ton delivered and $4 at the yard. This sweeping cut is the best news the consumers of the city have heard for some time, and comes as a welcome Christmas gift. The prices quoted are the equal of the lowest summer storage rates. The new rate goes into effect today.

PRISONERS FEASTED.

Ogden, Dec. 27.—If the prisoners at the county jail were treated to a Christman dinner on Sunday, the bounteous spread which Sheriff Barlow Wilson prepared for them on Monday must have so pleased the men that they will surely remember it for years to come. Sheriff Wilson, who retires from office on Jan. 1, felt that a final act of kindness should be shown to the unfortunate men under his charge and therefore set about the preparation of a feast which would tempt the pallate of Lucullus. Roast pork with sauce, mashed potatoes, and all the accessories, with plenty of hot coffee and up the menu.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Ogden, Dec. 27.—Charging desertion on Nov. 13, 1909, W. J. Hoyt, city food and dairy inspector, has started suit for divorce in the district court from Ada B. Hoyt. The couple were married in Rhode Island, May 18, 1907. Mr. Hoyt is the couple were married in Rhode Island, May 18, 1907. AUSTRIAN FACES MURDER CHARGE

Trefa Racezich Accused of Killing Fellow Countryman at Bingham.

HIS SECOND TIME IN COURT

Information Was Quashed and Defense's Motion for Similar Action Was Overruled This Morning.

After denying the motion of the defense for quashing the information against Trefa Racezich, charged with murder in the first degree, Judge Lewis this morning ordered that the case proceed to trial and the morning was spent in empanneling a jury. The specific offense for which the Austrian is facing trial was the murder of Mike Plac, at Bingham, on Feb. 19, 1909, which is said to have grown out of a religious riot among the Austrians of the mining camp, the murdered man having been a fellow countryman of Racezich. The accused man made his escape following the killing and was at liberty for nearly a year. The information first filed was quashed on the showing of the defense that no stenographer had been present at the preliminary hearing, and later the proceedings were revived and new information ings were revived and new information filed, charging the offense of murder in the same degree as that charged in the anuled information. A motion was made by attorneys for the defense to quash the second information on the grounds that the first quashing was virtually acquittal. This is the motion which was denied by Judge Lewis.

Dist, Atty. Fred Loofbourow is conducting the prosecution, assisted by Asst. Dist, Atty. Leatherwood. The prosecution, in stating the case to the jury, defined its purpose to show that the murder was premeditated. The defense holds that the killing was in self-defense. A score or more of witnesses were in the court lobby, nearly all Austrians, and the trial bids fair to be a long dawn out affair.

NINETEEN CHRISTMAS DRUNKS TURNED LOOSE

Judge Whitaker Passes on a Police Court Docket Carrying Sixty-four Names.

The afternoon session of Police Judge Whitaker's court was extremely unusual today from the standpoint of the number of cases. The docket had 64 names which included the offenders who had accumulated since Saturday afternoon when the last session of the court was held. Nincteen of the prisoners represented Christmas jags. As most of these men had had one or two nights in jail to repent for their celebrations, Judge Whitaker dicharged them. There were 18 cases of vagrancy. In nearly every case, the judge gave the men until sundown to leave the city. 64 names which included the offenders

In Flagrant Cases of Christmas "Cheer."

Drunken men were so numerous o main streets of Salt Lake City Monday night that several prominent business men remarked about it this morning. One gentleman, who did not care to have his name given, said, this morning, concern ing what he saw: "I am dumbfounded at the fact that the nolice department of Salt Lake City. should permit such flagrant dunkennes is was seen on the streets last night I saw approximatelya thousand men drink r the neighborhood of First South and Main streets and from there to West Temple. The language they used would be unfit for a yellow dog to use if it could speak. One man, for instance, was so drunk and so profane that his tipsy companions tried to stuff a handkerenist down his throat to keep out his vile

"It seems that the saloons in the vicinity of First South from Main to West ity of First South from Main to West Temple street cater to a cheap, low class of trade; and as a result, our main thoroughfare is despicable at night. I say one group that put my eltizenship to shame; in it were three men, two women and a group of crying children. One of the men was swearing drunk and his wife with the children was trying her best to get him home. The other men and the other woman were likewise so drunk that they scarcely knew what they were define.

I saw two drunken women at different times staggering about the street and using most obscene language; and worst of all a group of lads, ranging in ages from 15 to 17, were all intoxicated and rowdy. Where they purchased the lique I caunot say. In fact, we have some sulcons in this city which would not be tolerated in most places of this size."

CHILDREN AT INFIRMARY Gladden the Hearts of the Poor, and

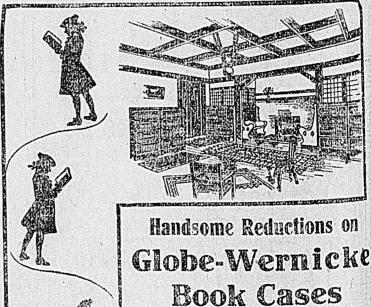

The Aged Inmates, Mrs. Julia Smith and Mrs. Kate Herdrickson headed a delegation of the Religion class from Farmers ward yesterligion class from Farmers ward yester-day and gladdened the inmates of the county infirmary. There were about 5 in the party, and a delightful program of songs, addresses and recitations by the children followed which was appreciated by the aged and infirm. Following the exercises the children rande a tour of the entire building and during the progress banded each of the inmates flower which they had brought with them for the occasion.

The whole affair was voted, both but in immates and the officials, to have been the best and most pleasing entertainment given at the infirmary in years.

TRAMPS TAKE POSSESSION.

There have been complaints of late about hoboes taking possession of summer cottages in Emigration canyon, and living there during the day, while they forage in and around the city by night. Judge LeGrande Young, presi-dent of the canyon railroad, says he has no information of such perform-ances beyond a few sporadic cases of ances beyond a few sporadic cases of no special importance, and he is not elined to the belief that the reports are exaggerated. However, he believes a canyon patrol to be furnished by the owners of the cottages would be a good thing, at the same time holding that it is the duty of the sheriff of this county to send a deputy up through the canyon periodically to inspect conditions there.
